THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1870. | VOLUME III---NUMBER [illegible]

Evening Edition.

Atlanta, Ga., November 23, 1870

Acquitted by a Technicality.

As we surmised, the acquittal of Captain-Senator-Superintendent-Foster Blodgett of the charge of perjury, at Savannah, was based upon a mere technicality. The Savannah News states that upon the trial, in the United States Circuit Court, the Attorney General produced a certified copy of Blodgett's oath, taken previous to his being inducted as Postmaster of Augusta. Opposing counsel objected to its reception, upon which argument was had. The Court ruled that an affidavit could not be read in evidence without actual proof of the taking of it. In this case, it was morally impossible to prove this point by any living witness, the man before whom the oath was taken (David L. Roath, Esq.) being now dead.

Under this ruling of the Court, the Attorney General stated that it was impossible for him to proceed further with the case, and the Court thereupon directed a verdict of not guilty to be brought in, which was done.

It transpired during the trial that the original affidavit had been sent on to Washington by Hon. H. S. Fitch, of this city, and that at this time it was not to be found either here or at Washington. When last heard from, it was in the hands of a Congressional Committee. Ex-Postmaster General Randall positively declares that he knows nothing of the document whatever.

Editorial Correspondence.

DALTON, GA., November 22, 1870.

The Superior Court is in session; and terrible weather are we having. A large attendance of lawyers, witnesses, jurors and litigants is on hand. The important matter is the relief law, which Judge Parrott has pronounced constitutional. Judge Twiggs and Judge Harrall have also pronounced it constitutional, while Judge Hopkins and some other Judge have pronounced it unconstitutional. The matter will go up to the Supreme Court. As it is a matter of general interest, I give you Judge Parrott's points:

H. H. Heoron, guardian, etc., vs. M. Nichols, et al. Complaint on note, dated and due in 1863, in Dade Superior Court, November term, 1870.

The Court held that the relief law, passed in 1870, is constitutional.

That the 14th section of said act, having reference to claims due widows and minors relieves such claims from the operation or effect of the other sections of the act.

That claims due widows and minors are to be adjudicated according to the provisions of said 14th section, which provides that they shall be settled according to the principles of equity, taking into consideration the relative loss of property sustained by the plaintiff and defendant.

The Court, in delivering his charge, stated that every convention, with legislative powers, and every legislative body elected since the close of the war had enacted relief laws, which shows, beyond doubt, that the voice of a majority of the people of the State are impressed with the justice and necessity for relief to the debtor class of our people.

The statutes and constitutions passed and ratified, and the precedents established and recognized by courts prior to the war, were not, and could not have been made with reference to the state of things existing at the close of the war. No people of any country were ever so perfectly overwhelmed with loss, so entirely revolutionized in business and pursuits, as the people of the South by the results of that struggle.

As no law could be passed, no precedent established, no rule could be adopted that could remedy the evils then pressing upon the people, it was proper that all matters in controversy between the people should be settled according to principles of natural equity, to be determined by juries taken from the body of the people affected by the same misfortunes, after considering all the circumstances of each case.

This section of the relief law, under which this case was tried, entitles parties to have their cases settled in this just and equitable manner, and is held valid.

Benjamin F. Butler.

This age has no greater curiosity than the man known over the civilized world as Beast Butler. A libel upon humanity, the man has made himself an acknowledged power in evil times, and in the most progressive nation of the century. Among a million of men, taken as we meet them, it would, perhaps, be difficult to find one who could have held his head up above the torrent of merited obloquy that has been poured upon Butler. The man stands out as an unparalled, specimen of the power of unredeemed shamelessness.

Branded by the world's verdict upon his own deeds as a thief, and an abhorred insulter of womanly purity, he has never hung his head for a second in mortification, or in cowed submission to his doom; but rising gaily above his corruption, using potentially the energies of a vigorous brain with audacity and tact, and wielding with invincible effect the gigantic influence of unscrupulous venom, he has by hook or crook gained office, and kept himself a feared and, therefore, to a certain extent, respected vitality of evil.

His career is a curiosity. As tough in his moral hide as a rhinoceros, he never knew shame. Here is the key to his success. He can't be shamed out of wrong. Moral condemnation falls off from his cuticle like hail from granite. Sagacious enough to steer on the right side of the law, he avoids the penitentiary, while he deserves it; and the consciousness of deserving it and the knowledge that others think he deserves it, awakens no feeling. It will be remembered that at the time he issued his imfamous order in regard to Southern women in New Orleans, the civilized world spoke unmeasured censure of the thing. The leading English statesmen uttered official condemnation against it in the name of common humanity.

Yet such a man, so dishonored by his own acts and the verdict of the world, has absolutely a leading place in the national councils of this great country, by the free suffrages of a portion of the people; he is appointed to influential positions, and he controls legislation on great public questions. There are men who vindicate him it is true. But he has never deigned to vindicate himself. Unable to answer the charges against him he has taken refuge in silent scorn. Few men could play this difficult role. And what is worse every act of his life nearly in its disdain of moral scruples, corroborates the sins laid to him.

How high he is going to rise no one can tell. He is a congenial champion of the despotic policy of central empire that is the pith of Radicalism, as by it alone can he ever hope to debauch the times and gratify his evil ambition.

Some fellow named Walker has sent to the New York Sun the following letter of Butler to Horace Greeley, which, whether a forgery or not, could have been written by Butler without violence to truth, and which is good enough to be reproduced:

The following documents were received at the Sun office yesterday:

LOWELL, November 13.—The enclosed was found near Butler's house in this city, in an envelope. Print it if you think best.

Yours, C. WALKER.

LOWELL, October 18, 1870.

MY DEAR HORACE: I think the time approaches when, according to our understanding, to interview me, though it may not be well to do so before the November election. The Republican party is dead as Chelsea, and if it cannot be galvanized, I will have a new one! You have a reputation for honesty, and are said to resemble old Ben Franklin. I think you are as honest as policy will allow. That is all that is claimed for him, you know. I do not flatter. So let us go-ahead. It is my intention to be President of the United States; and when I set about a matter of this magnitude all hell cannot stop me. Grant went in on his military record when it was fresh. It is old now, and somewhat tarnished. He hates me, but is no match for me in politics. I have fixed him by a series of movements away beyond his military tactics. He little knows who of his Cabinet are mine. Without much boasting, I can say that I roam at will through the Treasury, Patent, and Internal Revenue Departments; the subordinates know, feel and tremble at my power. I have more men at my dictation than any other living man has or ever had. Every member of the Ship Island expedition that Gov. Andrew attempted in vain to crush, has been appointed to good positions, or what is better for me, expect to be.

While that polished icicle, George B. Loring, has been at the Bird Club on Saturdays, sitting between Sumner, Wilson and Claflin gathering, I have held my levée at his office, 5 Tremont row, despatching and receiving telegrams from every quarter, and have had time to compare notes before the Sabbath, which we will keep so sacredly, you know. My entrée at the Departments gives me éclat as a lawyer; and while the fee of $3,000 killed poor John P. Hale, I have a princely income from that profession, and the beauty of the whole thing is that nobody holds me to the same moral standard. I would not care a d—n if they did. I am master of the situation, and hold the old Bay State in the hollow of my hand. I have Whiting at Washington to manage the immense number of patent and other cases in which I have interests besides my fees, and where money is paid, he can swear to anything, anyhow.

I have been very successful in my undertakings, and though, when I started the Ship Island expedition from Boston, the very horses I drove were mortgaged. I have now funds to any desirable extent, every dollar of which shall go to accomplish the darling object of my heart, my glorious ambition. There is no man in Massachusetts for whom I care a brass button, except Sumner; and he is so stolidly honest, and imagines himself so elevated in the world's esteem that he won't go out of his way to cross my path as long as I pay the tribute of flattery to his insufferable vanity. It is rather galling to my free, open manner, but it is the only way to use the egotistical peacock. I have kept poor Wilson in a state of constant alarm for the last two years. I have held my sledge hammer over his head, while Boutwell, like the mole that he is, was undermining his feet. I enjoyed his contortions hugely, saying in answer to the frequent abortive attempts of his friends to pump me, "Do you take me for a fool, to seek the position I know I cannot get? Boutwell can have it if he wishes." Boutwell said the same of me. We have acted together ever since we were members of the Democratic party. The impeachment of Johnson cemented our fortunes anew, though Boutwell, who never had a particle of imagination, made himself ridiculous by his famous "hole in the sky" illustration. We understand each other, as much as such a dissembler can comprehend a man of my depths, capacity and audacity. I have him by the throat, but I handle him gently, because I have use for him hereafter. He fondly dreams that he will checkmate me; but it takes more than owlish reticence to accomplish such a fact.

The man who will be President of these United States, that has tasted military glory, must be made of very different materials than compose his narrow, selfish, cold, timid soul. My great cry will be, "The British possessions, have them we will; peacefully if possible, forcibly if we must." Every dollar of the vast fortune I possess shall go for that object. I can at any time precipitate a conflict by the fishermen of my district, over whom I have unlimited sway. But England dare not fight with us. She will yield, as she cares nothing for her expensive colonies. We can assume the Alabama claims. But it does not follow that we need pay them. We have not yet paid the old French claims, and reasons enough for not paying them can always be scared up at sight, you know.

I shall have the leadership in Congress; there isn't a man in the House for whom I care a snap. I have taken measures with Boutwell and Delano for the defeat of old Schenck, and that damned Farnsworth, and neither of them will show their snouts in Congress. As to Bingham, he is a tough old cuss. I hope to get rid of him, but hardly expect it.

I have another plan which may not meet your views so readily, but the man who could thrust Jeff. Davis upon a community after the Government had paid $100,000 for him, petticoat and all, won't stick at so small a matter. I must conciliate the South, and you know there are thousands of men and women who suffered terribly in the war. Some furnished supplies, others were robbed by the soldiers. They must be paid. True they ought not to be, and it will add some three or four hundred millions to the public debt. But what of that? We are a nation of boundless resources. We shall not pay in gold for ten years, sure, and we may as well add this amount; and if we are compelled to repudiate, as I think we shall, it would be but a trifle more. The South must be shown that even Ben Butler can be generous to them.

I am not among those tender-hearted fools who look upon the war as an evil. It is one of God's appointed ways of governing nations, and no one who does not reject the Bible can properly oppose war. I mean in some of its forms. I do not, of course, justify all wars. I am using Wendell Phillips splendidly; the brilliant donkey imagines that he can be Senator, or Minister to England. Horace, when these conscientious fools conclude to go into politics, don't they go it mad! They think all politicians dishonest knaves, and prove their sincerity by their action. Wendell thinks he knows how to manage me just enough to succeed. We will see how he will come out. Yours, with all due respect,

BENJAMIN F. B——

Mr. Evarts.

I saw, to-day, the tall, slender form of William Evarts, late Attorney General and wittiest of advocates, pacing the marble floor, with his abominable old stove-pipe jammed down over his intellectual ears. He has a thin, boyish face, all intellect and ill humor, and one would never dream, to look at it, of the acrid sort of fun that lies back. One remembers how he sent Boutwell bouncing through his hole in the sky, with a magazine of fire-works pinned to his oratorical coat tail. Evarts, thin and dyspeptic as he looks, is fond of a good dinner, and can tell a choice wine with as clear a judgment as he can dissect an intricate case. At these feasts his wit keeps time to his knife and fork. I sat next to him at a choice little dinner party last summer, given about the time Louis Napoleon set out on his trip to Berlin.

"The Emperor goes," said one of the guests, who deeply sympathized with the French; "on a little excursion for his health. He needs a tonic."

"I fear he will find it a little too tonic," (Teutonic,) said Evarts with a sly twinkle in his eyes.

Ah! witty prophet, would that heaven had given you as good a stomach as you have head, and a little more, just a grain more, heart.

THE DELAY IN ANNOUNCING THE RESULT OF OUR ELECTION ACCOUNTED FOR.—The delay which took place in counting the votes cast at the late election in the city of New Orleans, was caused by the necessity of keeping the Radical majority fixed upon by Warmoth within the figures of the registration list. It was not caused by any inability rapidly to count the ballots in the boxes, but arose from the design formed by Governor Warmouth and his associates, to manipulate the returns in such a way as to bring out their majority of 5,000 to 6,000, and yet not go beyond the numbers shown by the registration books. And it must be admitted they have managed the business with considerable skill.—New Orleans Bee.

☞ Touching the "English Mission," "Quilp" says through the Boston Post:

His failures repeated, that mission is filling,
Make the President's path seem quite thorny.
But if his sole trouble's to find one that's willing,
Why don't he send Greeley, or Forney?

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, November 23.—Soldiers, whose terms have expired, are only dismissed upon furlough in view of the probable war.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, November 22.—Reports from the north of France are favorable to the French.

The sieges of Montmedy and Mesciers have suddenly been raised by the besiegers, who moved towards the interior of France.

Lille is well armed, provisioned and garrisoned.

Warlike manufactures are progressing actively.

The Enquirer thinks that Lille is nearly as strong as Metz.

Four French iron-clads are in the port of Forbay, and another at Brixham, coaling.

The news this afternoon is more warlike, and there is considerable excitement on stock exchange in consequence of the rumorscur rent of hostile dispatches from Russia.

The Moscow papers are less insolent and confident than those at St. Petersburg.

The Duke of Cleveland writes to the Times, arguing against war with Russia. He says that England is without an army for foreign service, and without allies except Austria and Turkey, both of whom are bankrupt.

Russia's reply is expected on Thursday, and is generally thought that it will be unfriendly.

BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, November 23.—The Independence Belge has advices from Paris by balloon of the 19th, which state that the Civic Guard is composed chiefly of foreigners. Many citizens, unfit for active service, are enrolled in the Civic Guard, which executes the orders of the Government and distributes rations to the citizens and soldiers, and performs other similar service.

The moral of the people is excellent.

The Germans were massing on the northern side of the city, near St. Dennis.

Advices from Tours to noon yesterday, say that the Prussians threaten Nogent la Vatron and Lemans with 3,000 troops. Another force is moving on Yientan.

It is denied that the army of the Loire is to move toward Paris.

Several commands north of France, including Bourbaki's, have been suppressed. The entire command was assigned to Gen. Favre.

Bourbaki is expected at Tours, to command the 18th army corps, in the army of the Loire.

Paper Boxes.

The business done in this city in paper boxes of all kinds is very extensive. Many houses in the branches of business that require the use of these articles make their own; but apart from these there are in this city over sixty factories which follow this business exclusively, and make boxes to the amount of over $2,000,000 annually, to which add the amount made by parties for their own use, and we have very nearly $3,500,000 in a single year. The total product of the whole country amounts to over $6,000,000. These boxes are made by machinery, which is very elaborate and very expensive. Some factories employ a large number of hands, and one in particular requires 300 men, women and children the year round. The amount of stock worked up at this factory alone is very large, using five barrels of paste, and about seventy-five pounds of glue each day. The yearly consumption of straw board is 300 tons, and 2,000 reams of lining paper in the same time; besides about 200 reams of glazed paper for binding and edging. An establishment of this kind has the capacity to produce about 10,000,000 boxes for paper collars yearly, besides nearly 500,000 square boxes of different kinds and sizes. Most all kinds of business help to consume this enormous product of these articles, and each year brings entirely new articles in trade which require to be boxed. The patent medicine men use a very large number; one house in the country claiming to consume over 1,000,000 boxes of various kinds each year. The boot and shoe trade consumes an enormous amount, and restaurants and confectioners are fast becoming extensive buyers. This branch of industry is growing rapidly every year, and as the consumption increases the business bids fair to become one of the leading trades of the country.—N. Y. Bulletin.

☞ An important decision, involving the liability of express companies, has just been rendered in the case of Cochran vs the Adams Express Co. The facts of the case are briefly these: The sum of $5,000 was committed to the Company to be taken to New Orleans. The money was supposed to have been put in the Company's safe on board the steamer "Bio Bio," which was burned at New Orleans before discharging her cargo. The safe was shown to have been put into a dry goods box and properly shipped, but no one could tell what had become of it after it was taken on board, nor could the divers who visited the vessel discover any trace of it. The defense was based upon the proviso of the contract by which the company were relieved from responsibility for any loss unless it was proved to have resulted from the fraud or negligence of themselves or their agents. Judge Cardozo, before whom the case was first tried, held that although there was no direct evidence of fraud, enough had been proved to put upon the company the burden of proving that they were not negligent. Judgment was accordingly given for the plaintiff, and this, on appeal, the Supreme Court in General Term has promptly affirmed. The circumstances of the case are not extraordinary, and the judgment which is now sustained is of importance as defining more clearly the responsibility of express companies for the safe transportation and delivery of valuables committed to their care.—New York Bulletin

The New King of Spain.

The new Spanish sovereign is the second son of Victor Emanuel, by rank and title Duke of Aosta, better known as Prince Amadeus Ferdinand Maria. He was born in 1845, and, having passed through inferior grades, was Colonel of the Lombard Grenadiers and general of brigade in the Austro-Italian campaign in 1866. At the battle of Custozze he led his brigade against the Austrians, and he and his brother, the Crown Prince Humbert, greatly distinguished themselves by their bravery, Prince Amadeus in particular, who was wounded in the chest, and had to be removed from the field. In 1867 Prince Amadeus married Mary, daughter of Prince Pozzo della Cisterna, the head of a historical Italian family. He is connected, by the marriage of his sister Clotilde to Prince Napoleon, with the house of Bonaparte, and by his sister Maria Pios, with the reigning King of Portugal, Don Louis I. His mother was Adelaide, daughter of the Archduke Renier of Austria.

THE INDIA COTTON CROP.—The Bombay Circular of Sir Charles Forbes & Co., dated October 8, says:

The last year's crop will turn out as nearly as possible 1,500,000 bales, or 500,000 bales short of the estimate of the cotton department. So far this season's crop promises well as to quality, but the quantity will, it is thought, be reduced considerably. The transactions of the fortnight have been exceedingly limited, not exceeding 1,462 candies.

☞ The fact that national tastes in drink-provoking fluids are widely different, is rhythmically expressed in the following:

The Russ loves brandy; Dutchman beer;
The Indian, rum most mighty;
The Welshman sweet metheglin quaffs,
The Irish, aquavite;
The French extol the Orleans grape;
The Spaniard tipples sherry;
The Yankees none of these escape—
For they with all make merry.

MONEY.—The eight Democrats who were absent from their seats when the Election Bill was passed, are now receiving the first instalment of the damning bribe, and, in a few years more, will occupy the lowest niche in the scale of human depravity.—Air-Line Eagle.

☞ The salt monopolists of Syracuse, New York, are so thoroughly determined to keep the business in their own hands that they have sent an agent to Palestine, with instructions to buy Lot's wife at any price.

☞ Mrs. Youngman, of Iowa, has fallen heir to a fortune in Scotland of $2,500,000, and all the girls up there are very sorry that this Youngman is not a young man.

☞ An old Spanish chronicler tells us that the first woman Columbus was introduced to on landing upon the American shores, was Colonel Susan B. Anthony.

☞ Julius Cæsar is now a barber in Allegheny, Pennsylvania, and it is said that it is only by a very close shave that he continues to make a living.

☞ Thursday last was observed by the Cherokee Nation as a day of fasting and prayer for protection against the United States Government and its agents.

☞ "You know how it is yourself" came from Boss Tweed.

A NEW DISCOVERY!!
PHALON'S
"VITALIA;"
OR,
Salvation for the Hair.
CLEAR AS WATER!!
WITHOUT SEDIMENT!!
OPEN TO THE LIGHT!!!
For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.
PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the hair coloring preparations heretofore used. It is limpid, sweet smelling, precipitates no muddy or slimy matter, requires no shaking, imparts no stain to the skin. Hold it to the light and it is clear and cloudless. It leaves no mark on the scalp; yet it reproduces in gray hair the natural color that time or sickness may have bleached out of it.
☞ Phalon's Vitalia ☜ is for one sole purpose, that of reproducing, with absolute certainty, the natural color of the hair. It is not intended as a daily dressing, nor for removing scurf or dandruff; nor for curing baldness; nor for stimulating the growth of the hair.—These objects may be accomplished after the color has been fixed with the Vitalia, by Phalon's Chemical Hair Invigorator.
THE VITALIA is a harmless and unequaled preparation for the reproduction of the original hue of gray hair, and nothing else. This is accomplished in from two to ten applications according to the depth of shade required. Sold by all druggists.

Fahnestock's Vermifuge.
WHY is it that so many children die under the age of five years? For a large proportion of children die under that age, has long been a subject of remark, and without a satisfactory cause ascertained, it is certain.
Also, it is known that worms exist in the human system from its earliest infancy; therefore parents, especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, cannot be too observing of the first symptoms of worms; for so surely as they exist, can they be safely and as certainly removed from the most Delicate Infant, by the timely use of
B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.
It is perfectly harmless, contains no Mercury, being a purely Vegetable Composition, and may be administered with the utmost safety to children of all ages.
Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country, but their short lease of life is nearly exhausted, and B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily.
CAUTION.
Should occasion require you to purchase B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, be particularly careful to see that the initials are B. A. This is the article that has been so
FAVORABLY KNOWN SINCE 1829,
And purchasers must insist on having it, if they do not wish to have an imitation forced upon them.

☞ THE DAILY CONSTITUTION has been enlarged four columns, appears in new type and presents a very handsome appearance. In its new form, we wish THE CONSTITUTION increased prosperity, which its proprietors, and its accomplished editor, Colonel Avery, certainly deserve.—Talbotton Standard.

☞ The French have lost of their armies with which they began the fight 367,000 men, 3,500 cannon, and 35,000 horses. Her losses of material will aggregate in value twenty-three hundred millions of dollars. Germany's expenses and losses sum up fifteen hundred millions of dollars.

Mere trifles these!

CAN'T FACE THE MUSIC.—Bullock and his organ are singularly silent in regard to the recent astounding revelations of the extravagance of the Radical administration in this State. We at least expected to see the organ deluged with weak denials and commonplace subterfuges; but it seems the facts presented are entirely too strong and truthful even for the facile digestion of Bullock's man Friday.—Savannah News.

So the Money Goes.

We observe that Governor Bullock has advertised his extensive proclamation, calling for bids for lease of the State Road, in an obscure Radical paper, of limited circulation, published in Richmond, Virginia. The paper is styled the "State Journal." The advertisement was put in on the 2d of November, to be printed until the 25th of December.

Why not select leading papers of large circulation? This would be right.

☞ THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION is doing valiant service for the cause of Democracy in showing up the villainy of Bullock's administration. The one item of clerk's hire which our able cotemporary figures out, shows a waste of the people's money absolutely startling. Two years more of power to this public spendthrift and thief, will bankrupt the State. Democrats, wake up to these significant facts. This reckless plunderer, backed by his pampered minions, will reduce you to penury. Down with the thief.—Sparta Times and Planter.

The State Credit.

The Governor thinks that telling the truth has hurt the State credit. We differ with him. Squandering the State's resources and recklessly issuing State bonds had done this work.

The Governor thinks to scare us from ventilating his official extravagances, and the crimes of his faction, by charging us with hurting the State credit. But he can't do it. We are going to ventilate. The people shall know what creates the necessity of issuing two millions of gold bonds to raise money to pay four hundred thousand dollars of State debt. And if he says it don't take that much, we want to know who is getting the benefit of those other bonds and the rest of the money.

But the Governor generously relieves us of all responsibility. He says our efforts to break down the State credit by simply telling facts about him and his faction are not successful. He can still sell our bonds. Well, this eases our mind wonderfully. As to the question of intention we will let the people judge of that.

Mark you, reader, he tells the Senate that THE CONSTITUTION has not succeeded in its purpose of destroying the State credit. So we are out by his own confession. But still he has to stay to work off the bonds. He has to disappoint the Senate. He has to spend another week to get off his bonds. So the State credit is still hurt. He says we did not do it. Who did it then? We will tell him.

HE DID IT. He is the culprit. And the people so decide. That the son of the Treasurer, visiting New York to stop the unauthorized use of his father's name by the Governor, and a Democratic newspaper simply printing official facts and figures, can break down or injure the credit of a great State like Georgia, is so preposterous a conclusion, that it only needs to be stated to fall dead.

No, the evil lies deeper. It lies in the desperately wicked mal-administration of the State government. It lies in the character of our State rulers, and the consequences of their misgovernment. It lies in the reckless criminality of high State officials who are such men, that there is no crime that one does not apprehend.

We should like to see four hundred thousand dollars of gold bonds produce the money to pay the four hundred thousand dollars of debt that the State owes. But we hope that not one dollar of that surplus sixteen hundred thousand dollars of gold bonds can be negotiated. And if it takes it all to raise the little one-fifth of the amount needed, we say that it is the most damaging proof to the misgovernment of the Bullock faction.

But we are not through our ventilation of the bad record of this administration. We shall the more cheerfully proceed, as the Governor says we can't hurt the State credit.

☞ Messrs. Gimlet and Tubb, of Wisconsin, quarreled last week. As Gimlet was being taken out, he remarked that it was Tubb bad to come to pieces in that way.

☞ A vote at Cape May, New Jersey, brings two bushels of corn. All the freemen at the recent election were corned.

☞ A girl in New York has received $2,000 for her hand. It was mashed by a ferry-boat and she sued.

Wyoming—Land of Woman's Rights—Mountains and Plains—Antelopes—Greeley a Temperance Town—Cheyenne—Fate of Sheridan—Sixty Graves—Larimie City—Female Jurors—Ladies Elect a Good-looking Single Man to Congress.

LARIMIE CITY, WYOMING TERRITORY, November 15, 1870.

Editor Constitution: Yesterday I left Colorado Territory for this, the land of "woman's rights." I came down the mountain from Central City to Denver day before yesterday, and spent the night there, and at 8 o'clock A. M. yesterday took passage on the Denver and Pacific Railway for Cheyenne, Wyoming. The distance is one hundred and ten miles, but they run on better time than our friends of the Macon and Western road run their one hundred and one miles, making the trip in about four hours. The section through which this railway runs is a most fertile and picturesque country. We traveled for about forty miles down the valley of the south fork of the Platte, then crossed it, and also some of its tributaries, and kept a straight course nearly due North—being all this time parallel with, and about twenty miles from, the base of the Rocky Mountains, and from fifty to sixty miles from the top of the main ridge. We passed opposite Long's Peak, and certainly the snow-capped mountains surrounding that Peak, and extending for fifty miles south of it, cannot be surpassed any where in the world for wild, romantic and sublime scenery.

After passing Evans, a thriving town about fifty or sixty miles from Denver, it was difficult to choose between the mountain scenery to the left and the scenery upon the plains to the right. The plains were full of antelopes and at times there were thousands of them in view at once. Innumerable herds of them were in sight all the time for about thirty-five miles. When three or four hundred yards from the track they would not seem to care for the train at all but when very close they would lope off. When running they go "single file" and all follow their leader, and keep the ranks well closed up. It is a beautiful sight to see a hundred antelopes running at full speed parallel with the train and not more than one, two or three hundred yards distant. Sometimes they run along by the train and within fifty yaards of it for a mile or two. A great many are shot from the train and oftentimes the coductor will stop and get them for the gratification of the successful sportsman. I had a number of good, close shots but could not kill them. I think I saw as many as ten thousand yesterday in coming thirty-five or forty miles. The antelope must soon disappear, however, before the pioneer farmer as that section of country, situated between Denver and Cheyenne, and extending for fifty miles from the base of the mountains, making a section of country one hundred miles long and fifty wide, is being populated with great rapidity. Already there are several thriving towns springing up on the line of the railway.

About fifteen miles north of Denver a railway called the Boulder Valley Railroad is being constructed from the Denver and Pacific to Boulder City, a flourishing town at the base of the mountain, and will be completed by the first of January. This railway will be about thirty miles long. Other railways are now projected, and in five years this will constitute one of the most lovely and charming portions of Colorado. Greeley is the name of a town located, this year, on this railroad, and now numbering a thousand inhabitants. An enterprising Hoosier supposed, a short time ago, that so thriving a town as Greeley needed, at least, one one bar-room, and he established one. He had only been there one week when his house was entered his stock destroyed, and the house torn down. No other experiment has been made with a bar-room at Greeley. Around Greeley is a most beautiful and productive part of the so-called "Great American Desert," and the colony has purchased sixty thousand acres of land. They are building their main ditch for irrigation, and will bring the water about thirty miles, from the base of the mountain, and then have thousands of little ditches to carry the water to every acre they possess. They act as a joint stock company in the purchase of the land and in the improvements for irrigation.

The Northern people act on the coöperative system in everything, and overcome obstacles which separate individual efforts could never overcome. A single farmer could not settle alone around Greeley, for he would not be able to bring water for irrigation twenty or thirty miles, but all difficulties are overcome by combination.

On arriving at Cheyenne, in Wyoming Territory, I could see what the Union Pacific Railway was doing for the West. Cheyenne is a town of about two thousand inhabitants, and is, in my judgment, dependent on the railway and the garrison for a support. I don't think there is a future for Cheyenne, and I don't know that there ought to be. It is a "Western railroad town" without any intrinsic merit, and is a sink-hole of iniquity. It reminds me of what Sheridan once was. Sheridan is situated about four hundred miles west of Kansas City, on the Kansas Pacific Railway, in the midst of the Plains, and was for two years the terminus of the road, with a population of about three thousand. This year the road was extended through to Denver City, about two hundred miles, and Sheridan collapsed.

Sheridan now has but two houses remaining, and one of them is a blacksmith shop belonging to the road, and which the Chief Engineer told me he would move to Denver soon. I had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of the Chief Engineer, and traveled with him four hundred miles on the west end of the road. He pointed out Sheridan to me, and gave me its history. He called my attention to the graveyard on a little elevation about one hundred yards distant, and informed me that there were more than sixty graves there, and that not one of the persons buried there died a natural death, but all came to their death from violence. This city of Sheridan has run its career, and has left nothing to attract the eye of the traveler, save its sixty bloody graves. Such being my opinion of Cheyenne, of course I did not wish to spend a night there, and I therefore passed on. The season for snow storms being so near at hand I would not feel safe in getting too far west, as the railway sometimes becomes blocked with snow so as to obstruct the trains for weeks Therefore, in my haste to leave Cheyenne, I checked my baggage for this place, Larimie City, fifty-six miles west of Cheyenne. The latter place is at the base of the mountains, and soon after leaving there the train began to ascend slowly. After traveling forty miles up grade we arrived at Sherman, which is only a railway station, but which is on the summit of the mountain, and the highest point of the bed of the railway between New York and San Francisco. After leaving Sherman we traveled down grade, and with better speed, for fifteen or twenty miles, which brought us into the beautiful Larimie Plains and to this city. The Plains are about fifty miles wide and one hundred and fifty miles long, and resemble what are called Parks in Colorado. No timber at all grows upon the Plains, but the mountains all around are heavily timbered.

The altitude of these plains is about seven thousand two hundred feet. Corn can not be raised here, nor does wheat grow well. Wheat is often killed here with frost in July or early in August, when in the bloom. Barley and rye do well here, and the grazing is very fine. There are at this time about thirty thousand head of cattle grazing on these plains. All the creeks and ponds here are now thickly frozen over. Some of your readers will doubtless remember seeing notices some time since of women serving as jurors in Wyoming Territory, and I will therefore allude to the "woman's rights" features of this country. Here, in Larimie City, women first served as jurors. Last June a prisoner was tried here under an indictment for murder, and the jury in that case was composed of six ladies and six gentlemen. I have had the honor of meeting here the Chief Justice of the Territory, Mr. Howe, a most excellent gentleman and a distinguished lawyer. He presided in the case above alluded to, and from him I gained all my information concerning it. The case consumed three days, and the jury were in the custody of the officers two nights. When the court adjourned at night Chief Justice Howe informs me that he ordered a male Bailiff to take charge of the six male jurors and ordered a special female Bailiff to take charge of the six female jurors, and they were all accommodated at the hotel I am now stopping at.

The argument in the case closed early the third day, and before night the jury brought in a verdict of "guilty." The Judge admitted that he was at first a little embarrassed at having ladies in the jury box, but he said he knew they were ladies of high social position, and there was no alternative but to "accept the situation." He told me that their presence as jurors had a better effect in preserving order in the Court room than a dozen sheriffs could have. I think the Chief Justice has become entirely reconciled, and accepts the situation in good faith. He introduced me to one of his Associate Justices, Judge Jones, who has been recently elected as Delegate to Congress from that Territory.

The ladies all voted for Judge Jones, and his majority was not as great as the number of votes cast for him by the ladies, therefore, as their votes saved his election, he thinks ladies might be safely entrusted with the ballot. The truth is the Judge, being a single man, and being such a fine looking man, I would not be surprised if some of the ladies ignored, for the time being, their political sentiments. Yes, in this country the ladies vote, hold office, and serve as jurors, but they nevertheless look like other ladies.

The hotel here is a very fine one and well kept. The trains pass by so frequently, going both ways, that I can scarcely realize that I am in Larimie City, on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains. As a matter of curiosity, to-day I turned to the register of the hotel to see if I could find any Southern names registered. I commenced with to-day and went back more that sixty days, through hundreds of names, without finding a single Southern name until I went back about seventy days and found L. P. Grant and John A. Grant, of Atlanta.

I will leave here to-morrow and will probably not stop until I reach Kansas City, which is about nine hundred miles east. As I shall stop in Kansas City a few days, I will probably write you again from that place.

All that is left us, is to bear the infliction as we bear an epidemic pestilence.

A correspondent visited the entire French line from Nevres to Rouen.

There is an entrenched camp at Rouen of 150,000 National Guards and Mobiles, and from there one unbroken line of entrenched camps extends to Evreux and Lemans. Between Lemans and Boulviere there is an extremely strong force, amounting to sixty-two guns, manned by sailors and Mobiles from South France.

Fort St. Phillips, Louisiana, 75,000. Estimate of the cost of the work 189,000.

Fort Livingston, Louisiana, 38,000.

Also the following, regarding the Pacific Railroad, in which the South was interested At the close of the last fiscal year the amount of subscription stock of the Southern Pacific Railroad was $1,800,000. Actually paid in $280,000. It has contracted for the purcase of San Francisco and San Jose Road for the sum of $2,770,000 in gold, the payment to be made and possession to be taken by the 31st of December next. The Union Pacific Railroad Company, Southern branch, now the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Company, the Kansas and Neosho Railroad Company, and the Leavenworth, Lawrence and Fort Gibson Railroad Company, were fully heard in the right of their respective companies to construct railroads from the Southern boundary of Kansas through the Indian Territory. I also considered the objections of representatives of certain Indian tribes through whose lands the projected lines of road would pass. After a most careful examination I reached the conclusion that the existing laws and treaties authorized the construction of one railroad on certain conditions, which neither company had then performed. On a subsequent hearing it was shown that the first-named company had completed its road to a designated point on that boundary, and I held that it was entitled to extend its line through said territory.

Butler's speech at Boston, says the work of the Republican party is being accomplished. The party has split on side issues; claims that the Democratic party is equally divided. England should be brought to immediate account; it would be cowardly to press her when involved in war. Blames the Democratic party for defeating valuable West India acquisitions, notwithstanding its time-honored desire for the acquisition of Cuba.

Butler suggests non-intercourse with Great Britain as the best means of bringing her to terms.

The reparation which England should make us is her naval stations at Jamaica, Nassau and Bermuda. Do not ask if Canada would be willing to let her people settle their destinies by a vote. Butler spoke of the temptation to make war on England; it would unite the entire country; it would be war upon the Ocean—not expensive; would give us Canada, and, as Republican and partisan, he would say, war would perpetuate the Republican party for more than three generations.

ST. DOMINGO, Nov. 9, via Havana, Nov. 23.—Letters are daily received from farmers and rancheros in Central America, making anxious inquiry as to the time when the cession of the Island to the United States will be consummated. Should the treaty be ratified, it is expected that Venezuela alone will send twenty thousand emigrants, principally agriculturists.

ATLANTA, November 23, 1870.

Fellow Citizens: I see, by a published card this morning, that I was nominated last night, by a convention of Republicans, for Mayor of the city of Atlanta. I also learn that a number of Republicans present declared they would not support me; and those who wish to know why they would not, have only to inquire who they were. Of course no man will support me for the Mayoralty who desires to make profit or gain, by organizing fraudulent combinations in the administration of the city government, for one of my purposes would be to prevent the success of every such effort, by resisting it to the extent of the influence of my position, and exposing all such efforts, when ever it cannot be prevented. I have refused and will not consent to become a partisan candidate, but if the citizens of Atlanta, who are opposed to all unnecessary and extravagant expenditure of the public money in whatever form, or under whatever guise it may be presented, who are opposed to the reckless expenditure of our public property and the increase of our municipal indebtedness, and in favor of a careful and economical administration of our city government in every department thereof, will manifest their desire for my election in addition to what has already been done I will now consent to run pledging myself that I will either be able to reduce the taxation of the city, or give a sufficient and satisfactory reason, at the close of my administration why it ought not to have been done. I am a Republican, and have affiliated with the Republican party for the purpose of restoring our State to the Union, and for the further purpose of inaugurating a policy for the restoration of peace and tranquility, but I appeal to all good citizens, and they shall bear me record, that I have resisted with zeal and fidelity every act of the Republican party that savored of injustice, extravagance or a reckless expenditure of the public treasure. I am an old citizen of Atlanta, and whatever have been my faults, no man can say that one of them has been political extravagance, and if the people of Atlanta, who are in favor of a faithful administration of Municipal government, and a determined opposition to unnecessary expenditure, who are in favor of filling every department of the city government with sober, industrious and capable officers who will serve the city, instead of some political aspirant, who is looking for future promotion, will give an expression of their desire, I will consent to become a candidate with confidence of success, or will as cheerfully support any other man with the same pledges.

OFFICE OF H. K. HICKS & Co., Managing Agents, Calhoun, Ga., October 22, 1870.

Owing to a large number of our agents failing to make returns in time, and to the tickets not being all sold, the Grand Raffle and Sale is postponed to the 26th of December, 1870, or sooner, if the tickets are all sold—due notice of which will be given.

The Managing Agents return their thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the enterprise, and respectfully solicit a continuance of the same for a short time, to complete the sale of all the tickets. Let none hesitate to buy tickets, for this is no New York humbug, but only gotten up to dispose of property, and that by good citizens of the county. On the day of the raffle the whole matter goes into the hands of the six commissioners selected by ticket-holders, and not interested in the raffle or in tickets, giving all an equal chance, though absent, of drawing a prize.

Agents must make returns by the 20th of December, or four days previous to the raffle.

Respectfully,

oct18-dtd H. K. HICKS & CO., Agents.

Superior Court.—The trial of —— McAfee, colored, for the murder of his father, still occupies the attention of the Court. The case will be argued this morning. Messrs. Hulsey and Tignor for defense. Solicitor Howell for State.

At the Guard House.—Mr. Carmichael, from Cuthbert, who has been sentenced to the Penitentiary for ten years, for murder, was at the above place last night. A guard had him in charge.

Why is it that so many members of the late House of Representatives are in the city? Do these Trencher Smellers hope to place their paws again into the Treasury?

A. R. Fuller, Esq., one of General Grant's victims, who was ruthlessly thrust out of employment as postal clerk on the State Road on account of political principles, is a candidate for the office of tax receiver of Clayton county. Hope he will be elected.

Board of Health.—The members of the Board of Health are requested to meet at my office, Granite Block, Broad street, at 3 o'clock P. M., to-day. Parties who may desire to present legitimate matter for consideration will receive due attention at the time and place designated.

J. N. Simmons,
Chairman Board of Health.

Produce.—Large quantities of produce could be seen piled up on the sidewalk of Alabama street, yesterday afternoon. Corn, bacon, fresh hogs, barrels of sausages, etc., etc. We could not tell whether they were for Messrs. McCamy, Zimmerman & Co., or Messrs. Lowry & Son; presume we will find out something about it in the advertising columns to-morrow

Proof Enough.—Let it be borne in mind, that a leading member of the Radical party asserted upon the streets that A THOUSAND MEN would be brought down the State Road, on municipal election day, for the purpose of carrying the Radical ticket; and that A. L. Harris, Master of transportation of that road, is a candidate for Alderman. Do the citizens of Atlanta want that man for Chairman of the Committee on Finance?

Fine Boots and Shoes.—M. O. Markham, Whitehall street, has one of the finest lots of shoes and boots ever brought to Atlanta.

His ladies' shoes are perfectly splendid, the most fastidious can be pleased. Mr. Markham was very particular in his selections, and, consequently, his stock is fine and good.

Gentlemen desiring a good shoe or boot can get it here. He is prepared to do custom work at short notice. warranted a good fit and durable work.

The Missionary Association of Payne's Chapel Sunday-school will hold its annual meeting at the church to-night, corner of Luckie and Hunnicutt streets.

An attractive and religious programme is made out for the occasion.

Rev. G. Jefferson Pearce will, D. V., deliver the missionary address. An invitation is respectfully extended to the public.

Cole's Opera House.—Mr. Richards and his Company have struck hands to give us a season of varieties, without any of its objectionable features, and thus far it is a success. The pretty and coquettish Miss Jessie Tremont, handsome in person, expressive in face, with an easy manner and a wise appreciation of the requirements of the lyric stage, has made herself a favorite, and sustains her role charmingly. Go and hear her sing "The Murmuring Sea," "Jennie who Lives in the Dell," etc. Go see Boquet dance; she gives full assertion to a vigorous vitality, indicating heartiness and good humor, while there is a nice musical meaning in every step she takes, and her movements are light, bouyant and gracefully expressive. Misses Leslie and Clark always display a vocalization at once sweet and powerful, showing an ability to meet the requirements of their role. McVeigh acquits himself in fine style; "Old Reliable" is true as is his name, while Hurley and Marr cannot be excelled anywhere in their line. The hall is comfortably heated, the singing, dancing and music are excellent, and the bill for to-night is one of gems.

The Circus Has Come.—This reporter wishes that he was a boy this morning. Just think of Thanksgiving, rabbit hunting in the morning, and circus in the afternoon. Well, he is something of a boy yet as to shows—yet remembering the time when he took a seat in the castle on the back of an elephant in pride and glee, and childish joy analyzing his feelings. Now he finds that he has lost some of his freshness, innocence and unsophisticatedness. But there are plenty of boys left, and the little fellow who laid awake, thinking of Stone & Murray's Circus last night, and allowed his imagination to run riot over its attractions, will find it here this morning. He can jump joyously from his bed, slide into his best clothes, hastily dispatch his breakfast, and with nimble feet he can soon see the pavillion—can hear the tramp of the horses, the roll of the wheels, the glitter of the garnish band wagon, and with all his soul in his eyes, can see the "grand cavalcade." Well, life's pleasures are fleeting, unsubstantial and unreal. But for all that, we will all be children to-day. Stone & Murray have the best circus out. Let us go to see it—renew our youth, enjoy thanksgiving, and be happy. This is the biggest and best circus of them all; performs more than appears on the bills; has the best and most efficient management. Let us turn out a large audience to prove that we appreciate merit and an effort to please.

The Tournament.—Yesterday afternoon, the weather being fine, the Knights met all in full costume, at Oglethorpe Park to renew the unfinished contest for the prizes. As two o'clock drew near, the crowd began to assemble, and by the time the Knights were prepared to run, quite a respectable crowd was on the grounds, anxiously awaiting exercises. The Knights received quite a stimulus from the presence of the fair observers, and their ambition was incited to deeds of valor and thoughts of love.

The following Knights were present and contested for the prizes:

J. C. Allen, Rob Roy, Atlanta, Georgia.
Acock, Knight of Charles, Cartersville, Georgia.
A. Archer, Knight of Spain, Atlanta, Georgia.
Conyers, Knight of Etowah, Cartersville, Georgia.
Dobson, William Wallace, Cartersville, Georgia.
George Kreis, Imperial Guard, Atlanta, Georgia.
Thomas Lyons, Robert Aboo, Cartersville, Georgia.
McCorson, Indian Chief, Cartersville, Georgia.
Percy Magill, White Feather the Partisan, Atlanta, Georgia.
John Milledge, Knight of 19th Century, Atlanta, Georgia.
W. H. Stiles, Knight of Cartersville, Cartersville, Georgia.
Robert Stiles, Red Cap, Cartersville, Georgia.
R. W. Westmoreland, Black Knight, Atlanta, Ga.

The first prize was awarded to James C. Allen, Rob Roy, on thirty-three (33) points. The second to Acock, on thirty (30) points. The third to W. H. Stiles, on 28 points. The fourth was given to W. H. Stiles for the best horsemanship exhibited.

The race run, the prizes won, they all turned their faces homeward, rejoicing that the affair had been so favorably concluded.

Praise be unto the victors, and may they be full as worthy the best gifts of life as they are of those prizes and the plaudits of the fair with the honor of the brave.

DeGives.—As the beautiful and accomplished Chapman Sisters and Bishop walked right into the affections of an Atlantic public, on their first appearance in the city, it is unnecessary to speak of them at length.

The Sisters always dress the role assigned them elegantly, invariably meeting with success. The burlesque of Pluto, last evening, is but a continuation of the triumphs that attended them in "Cinderella," "Aladdin," "Fra Diavolo," "Ixion," "Black-Eyed Susan," "Forty Thieves," and their entire repertoire embracing an extraordinary variety of burlesques, well calculated to give full scope to their remarkable versatility. We never could do justice to the little and graceful Miss Blanche, to her delicate features, lovely mouth, large tender looking eyes, golden hair, and her voice full of musical pathos.

"How may we paint thy beauty, Blanche,
Bright as the tender flush of summer dawn,
Fleet as the glancing step of startled fawn,
Pure as the spray of falling avalanche."

And Miss Ella, though fresh, is exquisitely rhythmical, ethereal and graceful. As we gaze upon her face we wonder if she ever cries or has a care. Her movements are all grace; her looks arch and bewitching. She is full of weird pranks and pretty sauciness; certainly the brightest, merriest little star we ever saw; seems always brimful of mischief, fun, life and sparkle.

"As if joy itself
Was made a living thing, and wore her shape."

Bishop is as exhaustively funny as when we first saw him. Where face, gesture, action and situation express the ludicrous without aid from the tongue, and do it well, sides must ache and mirth prevail. Then add to all this the tongue, and this disciple of Momus can be appreciated. The musical performance of Messrs. Wallace and Wood is a whole performance itself. To those who have seen the Chapman sisters, we can but add go and see them again. To those who have not, we must say you are missing a richer feast than will be placed upon the boards at DeGive's soon.

Educational Meeting.—According to announcement, a meeting of the citizens of Atlanta favorable to the establishment of a system of Common Schools in the city, was held at the City Hall. Though the attendance was limited, there was a lively interest manifested.

On motion of W. G. Newman, Esq., Hon. James L. Dunning was called to the chair.

On taking the chair, Mr. Dunning explained the object of the meeting in a clear, succinct and pungent manner. He favored a broad and liberal system of Public Instruction, a Park, a City Hospital, but no Soup House.

On motion of W. G. Newman, Esq., a committee of five was appointed to report business for the meeting, viz: W. G. Newman, E. Y. Clarke, T. Stobo Farrow, J. Norcross, and J. W. Hall.

Dr. T. S. Powell responded to a call in a brief speech.

David Mayer, Esq., who advocated a system of Public Schools in Atlanta twenty years ago, made an earnest, practical and telling speech in favor of Public Schools. His address was marked with strong points, sterling thoughts and witty sentences. The eloquent speaker was frequently interrupted by applause.

Colonel John Thomas responded in a brief speech.

The Committee on Business, through their chairman, W. G. Newman, submitted their report.

The Chairman prefaced it with some pointed and eloquent remarks.

After reciting the fact that Council had appointed a Board of Education more than a year ago; that the Legislature had passed an act empowering the city to issue bonds to establish a system of Public Schools, and the Council, in October, had passed an ordinance providing for issuing bonds to the amount of $100,000 for that purpose; that afterwards Council had resolved to submit the question to the people.

The Committee recommend the passage of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this meeting, there has never been a proposition made to the people of Atlanta which so nearly meets with their unanimous approval as this one of inaugurating and supporting a liberal system of Public Schools, free to all the children of the city, to be conducted and managed after the example of many of the older cities of the Union.

Resolved, That the thanks of the community are due to the able Board of Education that have so disinterestedly, and without pecuniary reward, given much of their time and attention to the investigation of the subject of Public Schools, and the maturing of the plan of a system adapted to the wants, and commensurate with the demands, of the people of our progressive city.

Resolved, That, inasmuch as the almost unanimous sentiment of our people in favor of the proposed system of Public Schools may render the friends of the same careless about voting upon the question of the aforesaid appropriation at the next election of municipal officers, the Chairman appoint a committee of citizens, two or more from each Ward, who will attend the polls and remind the voters that they are expected to cast a ballot for or against the appropriation.

Resolved, That, inasmuch as it is important to the success of the proposed system of Public Schools that the Mayor and City Council shall favor the same, the aforesaid committee of citizens be empowered to address every candidate for Mayor and Councilman, and request of each of them to publicly and specifically define his position in regard to the Public Schools.

Resolved, That said committee are hereby empowered to make such arrangements in regard to the printing of tickets as will, in their opinion, secure a full expression of the popular voice, in regard to the proposed appropriation for the benefit of Public Schools.

Johnsthan Norcross advocated a system of Public Schools in a terse effort.

Dr. T. S. Powell and Captain John Thomas opposed the adoption of the resolution requiring candidates to define their position.

Dr. O'Keefe stated that, in the opinion of the Board of Education, a tax of one-fourth of one per cent. would be sufficient to provide one of the best School Systems now known.

W. F. Harris thought the people ought not to be taxed too high to establish the system.

David Mayer moved to strike out the fourth resolution.

The chairman advocated a system of Public Schools in his animated and pungent style. It was one of his best efforts.

A gentleman from green Erin, whose name we could not ascertain, of homely garb, made a few remarks in favor of Public Schools, which were heartily applauded. The speaker made a "ten strike."

Colonel T. Stobo Farrow opposed striking out the fourth resolution. The motion to strike out was lost.

The resolutions were then adopted as a whole.

Dr. Thompson, Democratic candidate for Alderman in the Third Ward, announced that he was in favor of Public Schools. Retrench unnecessary expenses, but give the children of the poor a liberal education.

The Chairman appointed, as the Committee of Citizens:

First Ward—J. W. Hall, Thomas Haney.
Second Ward—Josiah Bradfield, W. L. Scruggs.
Third Ward—E. Y. Clarke, H. C. Holcombe.
Fourth Ward—W. Jennings, W. G. Newman.
Fifth Ward—Lewis Schofield, E. F. Hoge.

The meeting then adjourned.

A National Medicine.—One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are, equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburg, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor. [Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. nov19-d1w&w1t

Musical.—There are many Pianos in the market now-a-days for which numerous advantages are claimed. Some of them are very good and some of them are very poor. Some of them will wear for years in excellent tone, while others, which appear well at the first, become flat and tinkley after a little time. But there is always one instrument which may be relied upon, and that is the Wm. Knabe & Co., Piano. Those Pianos stand among the first in the world in all countries, and have been awarded seventy premiums, including the State Fairs at Macon and Atlanta. Messrs. Phillips & Crew, and Prof. P. L. Freyer are agents in this city for the Knabe, as well as the C. L. Graham & Co. Pianos, which latter, by the way, stand very high and among the best, though somewhat less expensive. They also have Pianos from all other first-class manufacturers and can accommodate all comers, both as to style, price, etc. Call and see them if you are thinking of purchasing a Piano or an Organ, as they are the agents for Mason & Hamlin's Organs, the best in the world, we believe. Special attention paid to tuning and repairing of Pianos. nov20—d2w

A Cross Husband.—Mrs. Smith—The fact is, my husband is becoming so outrageously cross and nervous that there is no living with him. He pretends one day that he has got the dyspepsia; the next day liver complaint; the next is sick, with no appetite—declares that there is nothing on the table fit to eat, and so on. It is all nonsense, and nothing but his confounded ugliness. From the very bottom of my heart, I believe he wants to worry me to death.

Lady Friend—Mrs. Smith, I think you are wrong. No woman has a kinder or more indulgent husband than you. I must confess that I have noticed a change in Mr. Smith; but I am inclined to think that all he wants is a tonic; and if I were you, I would not be a day without Plantation Bitters in the house. Make him take them moderately three times a day, and in a short time I think you will see a change. My experience is that Plantation Bitters is one of the best and most delicious tonics in the world; and that for nervousness, loss of appetite, dyspepsia and all kindred complaints, there is nothing so good.

Sea Moss Farina from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Creams, Custards, etc., etc. The cheapest, healthiest; and most delicious food in the world. nov19-deod1w&w1t.

Woman's Best Friend.—To relieve the aching heart of woman and bring joy where sorrow reigned supreme, is a mission before which the smiles of kings dwindle into utter insignificance. To do this is the peculiar province of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator; which, from the numberless cures it has accomplished, is appropriately styled Woman's Best Friend. The distressing complaint known as "whites," and the various irregularities of the womb, to which woman is subject, disappear like magic before a single bottle of this wonderful compound. It is prepared by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga., and sold at $1.50 per bottle by respectable drugmen everywhere. Physicians prescribe it. Its action is prompt, sure and decisive. nov5-tf

Patent Medicines.

CANCER! CANCER!!

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK,

OF MADISON, GEORGIA,

Makes a speciality of treating all persons afflicted with

CANCERS, SCROFULA,

Indolent, Ulcers, etc., etc.

He has successfully treated CANCERS for the last TWENTY YEARS, without the use of the knife or any mercurial agent. He begs to refer those afflicted to the following certificates of persons who have been cured by his treatment. They speak for themselves. The question will be asked who is Dr. Hitchcock? To all such I will answer that I was born and raised in Georgia. For all of which I feel very proud. I am permanently located in Madison, Ga.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock: It gives me pleasure to give my testimony in regard to the wonderful effects produced by your Vegetable Cancer Plaster. About five years ago I became afflicted with Cancer, just above my right breast. From that time to August 1st, 1869, I had as many as ten or twelve Physicians to examine and prescribe for it, but all proved of no avail. I called on you about the first of August, 1869, and put myself under your treatment. I am happy to say that your Plaster removed the Cancer, and I am now entirely well. I cheerfully give this certificate, not for the purpose of applauding you, though I feel under lasting obligations to you for the cure, I do it for the benefit of all such as may be afflicted with this terrible malady.

FRANCIS A. CALLOWAY.
Rutledge, Ga., June 1, 1870.
Tested by Dr. J. F. JACKSON,
Dr. J. J. MONTGOMERY.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock: I do hereby certify that I have had a Cancer on the angle of my jaw for fifteen years, and have applied to a number of physicians for treatment, but without success. The application of your celebrated Plaster removed the Cancer in eight days from the time of application. It has now been nearly two years since I was cured. I cheerfully give this for the benefit of the afflicted.

T. P. PEACOCK.
Madison, Ga., June 1, 1870.

I do certify that I have been troubled with a Cancer on my cheek, near my under eye-lid for two years past. I applied to Dr. W. L. HITCHCOCK, who applied his celebrated Cancer Plaster, and was agreeably surprised to see the Cancer come out whole, the eighth day from application; I am now well, and my face entirely healed up. I advise all persons afflicted with Cancer to give him a trial.

ROBERT SHIELDS.
Madison, August 2, 1869.

I have been suffering with a Cancer of the large kind, on the back of my neck, called rose cancer, for the past three years. I applied to Dr. W. L. HITCHCOCK, of Madison, who put a plaster on the Cancer, and, in eight days, it come out entirely. I am now well, and have been since the Cancer came out, which was last fall.

M. W. COFER.
Rutledge, Ga., September, 1869.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock—Dear Sir: I am pleased to state that your Plaster has entirely cured the Cancer on my nose, which has give me so much trouble. I shall ever feel grateful to you for the success of your remedy.

MRS. LORINA STRATTON.
Madison, Ga., May, 1870.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock: I am pleased to certify that I have had a large Cancer on my right arm for twenty years, and have seen and advised with numbers of Physicians, who advised me to let it alone, as they considered the Cancer too far advanced to be subdued by remedies. I heard of you and made application for treatment, as a last resort, and to my great satisfaction, your Plaster has taken out the Cancer, in eight days, by the roots, and the sore is now rapidly healing, and I entertain strong hopes of a speedy recovery.

J. F. BURNS.
Edgefield Court House, S. C.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock—Dear Sir: I do hereby certify that I have been afflicted sorely with Cancer for fifteen years, and have tried many Physicians, and spent a great deal of money—all to no purpose, until I called on you, in Madison, last winter. The application of your Plaster has acted like a charm. I have the Cancer now in my possession, and the sores are all healed up, except one small place, which is nearly healed. I beg to refer all persons afflicted to call on Dr. Hitchcock, at Madison, Ga.

T. B. REESE.
Edgefield Court House, or Hamburg, South Carolina, May, 1870.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock—Dear Sir: I am happy to certify that your remedies have cured the Cancer on my face and nose, that had given me so much pain for twelve years. It appears as sound as if I never had a Cancer.

MRS. E. B. STANTON.
Newton County, Ga., April 29, 1870—Post-office at Social Circle, Ga.

It affords me pleasure to state that I have witnessed a number of remarkable cures of Cancer, by the application of Dr. W. L. Hitchcock's Cancer Plaster.

J. F. PATTERSON,
September, 1870. Madison, Ga.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK'S

Liver Medicine.

I would also state that, in addition to my curing Cancers, I am in regular practice of medicine, and make a speciality of treating chronic diseases, especially those peculiar to females, to which, from a long experience and extensive practice, I guarantee perfect satisfaction. I also keep a full assortment of my Family Medicines on hand of my own manufacturing, but I call your special attention to my celebrated COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF STILLINGIA AND INDIAN HEMP, OR ALTERATIVE AND LIVER TONIC. It invariably relieves the following disorders: Chronic Torpidity of the Liver, Spleen, Kidneys, and Bladder. It cures Dyspepsia and Scrofula, Eruptions and Blotches of the Skin. It cures mercurial and old venerial diseases. Some will ask, how can this one medicine cure all of these diseases. The answer is this: It is so compounded as to answer all of the requirements of those symptoms, being compounded of the best, purest, and most reliable Liver medicine, tonic, alteratives, diuretic and disinfectants that belong to the vegetable kingdom. This medicine is the result of twenty years experience. I used it in my private practice for the last 20 years, and within the last six months I have sold over $1,000 worth of it, and I have to hear of the first complaint. I claim and assert it without the fear of contradiction from any that have tried it, to be superior to any of the preparations of the day, for all the diseases that I recommend it for.

I have never advertised this medicine before. I have always been opposed to advertising nostrums and quack medicines, but having been persuaded, for years, by my friends, I have concluded to do so, for the good of all that may avail themselves of the benefit of it. I could give thousands of testimonials to the happy effects of this medicine, but being satisfied that it will recommend and sustain itself, and all I ask is to give it a fair and impartial trial. Take it by the direction on the bottle, and if you do not find it all, or more than I claim for it, then I will agree to stop the sale.

I put up my medicine in ONE and TWO DOALLAR bottles, to suit persons and patients.

One word more to those that are suffering with Cancers. Don't let the Doctor dishearten you. For the most of them will, because they can't cure you themselves, will tell you that you can't be cured.

I have been curing Cancers for twety years, and have never failed but in one case, and that case was beyond medical aid. If you have a CANCER call and see me, and I will tell you in a half hour if I can cure you; will charge nothing for examination, and if I cure you, will be reasonable in my charges.

CERTIFICATES.

A WIFE WANTED.

I want a wife,
To cheer my life,
I care not what she lacks of beauty,
So I but find
That she is kind
And knows and practices her duty.

I want a wife
Averse to strife—
A gentle, unaffected creature—
One who can pass,
A looking glass,
Nor stop to glance at every feature.

I want a wife,
With vigor rife,
Whose nerves are never in a flutter;
Who will not roam,
But stay at home,
And brew and bake and make the butter.

I want a wife,
Who through her life
Was never known to be a flirt;
Who'll bring to me
A recipe
To keep the buttons on a shirt.

If such a one
Dwells 'neath the sun,
And don't mind leaving friends behind her,
With the author of this
She'll find true bliss
By informing him where he may find her.

England's Response to Russia.

LONDON, November 16, 1870.

At a Cabinet council to-day, it was resolved to act decisively in regard to the Russian complication. War is imminent. Great popular indignation exists against Russia.

The following correspondence explains itself:

EARL GRANVILLE TO SIR A. BUCHANAN, BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO ST. PETERSBURG.

FOREIGN OFFICE, Nov. 10, 1870.

SIR—Baron Brunnow made to me, yesterday, a communication respecting the convention between the Emperor of Russia and the Sultan, limiting their naval forces in the Black Sea, signed at Paris, on the 30th of March, 1856, to which you allude in your telegram of yesterday afternoon. In my dispatch of yesterday I gave you an account of what passed between us, and I now propose to observe upon Prince Gortschakoff's dispatches of the 19th and 20th ultimo, communicated to me by the Russian Ambassador. On that occasion Prince Gortschakoff declared, on the part of his Imperial Majesty, that

THE TREATY OF 1856 HAS BEEN INFRINGED

In various respects, to the prejudice of Russia, and more especially in the case of the principalities, against the explicit protest of his representative; and that in consequence of these infractions Russia is entitled to renounce those stipulations of the treaty which directly touch her interests. It is then announced that she will no longer be bound by the treaties which restrict her rights of sovereignty in the Black Sea. We have here an allegation that certain facts have occurred which, in the judgment of Russia, are at variance with certain stipulations of the treaty; and the assumption is made that Russia, upon the strength of her own judgment, as to the character of those facts, is entitled to release herself from certain other stipulations of that instrument.

THIS ASSUMPTION

is limited in its practical application to some of the provisions of the treaty, but the assumption of a right to renounce any one of its terms involves the assumption of a right to renounce the whole.

This statement is wholly independent of the reasonableness or unreasonableness, on its own merits, of the desire of Russia to be released from the observance of the stipulations of the treaty of 1856 respecting the Black Sea; for the question is: "In whose hand lies the power of releasing one or more of the parties from all, or any of these stipulations?" It has always been held that that right belongs only to the Governments who have been parties to the original instrument. The dispatches of Prince Gortschakoff appear to assume that any one of the powers who have signed the engagement may allege that occurrences have taken place which in its opinion are at variance with the provisions of the treaty; and, although this view is not shared or admitted by the consignatory powers, we may found upon that allegation, not a request to those Governments for the consideration of the case, but an announcement to them that it has emancipated itself, or holds itself emancipated, from any stipulations of the treaty

WHICH IT SEES FIT TO DISAPPROVE.

Yet it is quite evident that the effect of such doctrine, and of any proceedings which, with or without avowal, is founded upon it, is to bring the entire authority and efficacy of treaties under the discretionary control of each one of the powers who may have signed them, the result of which would be the entire destruction of treaties in their essence. For, whereas, their whole object is to bind powers to one another, and for this purpose each one of the powers surrenders a portion of its free agency. By the doctrines and proceedings now in question, one of the parties, in its separate and individual capacity, brings back the entire subject into its own control, and remains bound only to itself. Accordingly, Prince Gortschakoff has announced in those dispatches.

THE INTENTION OF RUSSIA

to continue to observe certain provisions of the treaty. However satisfactory this may be in itself, it is obviously an expression of the free will of that power, which it might at any time alter or withdraw; and in this it is open to the same objections as the other portions of the communication, because it implies the right of Russia to annul the treaty on the ground of allegations of which she constitutes herself the only judge.

The question therefore arises, not whether any desire expressed by Russia ought to be carefully examined in a friendly spirit by the consignatory powers, but whether they are to accept from her the announcement that by her own act, without any consent from them, she has

RELEASED HERSELF FROM A SOLEMN COVENANT?

I need scarcely say that Her Majesty's Government have received this communication with deep regret, because it opens a discussion which might unsettle the cordial understanding it has been their earnest endeavor to maintain with the Russian Empire. And for the above mentioned reasons it is impossible for Her Majesty's Government to give any sanction on their part to the course announced by Prince Gortchakoff. If, instead of such a declaration, the Russian Government had addressed Her Majesty's Government and the other powers who are parties to the treaty of 1856, and had proposed for consideration with them whether anything has occurred which could be held to amount to an infraction of the treaty, or whether there is anything in the terms which, from altered circumstances, presses or which in the course of events had become unnecessary for the due protection of Turkey, Her Majesty's Government would not have refused to examine the question in concert with the consignataries to the treaty, whatever might have been the result of such communications. A risk of future complications and a very dangerous precedent as to the validity of international obligations would have been avoided. I am, &c.,

WITH UNDUE SEVERITY UPON RUSSIA,

(Signed) GRANVILLE.

P. S.—You will read the dispatch and give a copy of it to Prince Gortschakoff. G.

"Uncle Ned" and the Scalawag.

A Baltimore correspondent of the New York World, under the head of "Humors of the Registration," tells the following good one:

An old negro whose venerable appearance indicated that he had seen more than the allotted threescore years and ten, presented himself for registration in Bladenburg, when the following conversation took place between "Uncle Ned" and a Radical who was watching the proceedings in the interest of his party:

Radical—How long have you lived in this district, uncle?

Uncle Ned—More dan fifty year. I'se only been to Washington once or twice in dat time. An' boss, (to the registrar) I want to be registered on de right side. I'se gwine to vote de Democratic ticket.

Radical—How's that? You owe your freedom to the Republicans; the Democrats didn't free you.

Uncle Ned—You'se mistaken 'bout dat, boss. De Radicals didn't free me. I was raised by Democrats, and owned by Democrats, and my massa he freed me.

Then a happy thought striking the old fellow, he turned to his questioner and asked:

"Didn't you use to own niggers, boss?"

Radical—Yes.

Uncle Ned—Well, did you free em?

Radical—No. The laws of the State in which I lived would not permit me to do that.

Uncle Ned—Well, den, why didn't you run dem off to Canady, like you did when you come here and went to fooling wid gentlemen's niggers?

The scalawag didn't "interview" any more darkeys that day.

HORACE GREELEY'S RIDE AROUND LAWRENCE.—They tell of Greeley, that during his recent visit at Lawrence, he was taken in a carriage to see the city and its improvements. Keeping him engaged in conversation, the irreverent scamps of his escort drove five or six times around a square, at each circuit passing a very fine building in course of erection. At about the fifth round he broke forth:

"Well, well, Lawrence is growing rapidly. Why, there is a very large number of fine buildings going up."

On the sixth round, he threw his black felt hat on the back of his head, put on his spectacles, and said:

"Look here, don't you fancy there's a little monotony in the architecture of this place?" [Cincinnati Enquirer.

Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

Ague and Fever,

—OR—

Chills and Fever.

THE Proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my Almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter, from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of Bull's Worm Destroyer:

VALLAHOW, Walker County, Ga., June 29, 1869.

DR. JOHN BULL:

DEAR SIR—I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

BULL'S

SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACKS, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.
I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige, CAPT. C. P. JOHNSON, St. Louis, Mo.
P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:
DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible but I believe he will recover. Respectfully,
JENNIE JOHNSON.

Testimony of Medical Men.

SUNNY POINT, WHITE CO., ARK., May 23, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.
My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.
Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.
Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed, the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickett & Neely. Respectfully, A. S. WALKER.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER, West Point, Ga.—Gentlemen: Having witnessed almost daily, for the last fifteen years, the great efficacy of the preparation you are now putting up, known as "Abbett's Medicine," it affords me pleasure to state that I know of no combination or preparation equal to the treatment of Liver Diseases of whatever character, and cordially recommend it to all who are suffering from derangement of the Liver, and especially the Dyspeptic.
I am, very respectfully,
T. S. BRADFIELD, Druggist.

WEST POINT, GA., October 15, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER—Gentlemen: I can honestly and confidently recommend L. B. Abbett's Liver or Dyspeptic Medicine, as prepared by you, to the favorable notice of the suffering public. Having used this Medicine myself in my family for twenty years, I can highly recommend it for removing pain or flatulency from the stomach, caused by indigestion. It also has a happy effect in removing constipation of the bowels. I believe it to be the best universal remedy the world has yet discovered for the above named diseases. With my best wishes to you in introducing this valuable Medicine to the public, I remain
Yours truly, A. K. KENDRICK.

ROSADALIS.

The Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.
Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.
Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:
I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.
Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.
Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro, Tenn., says:
I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.
Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.
Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.
Laboratory, 61 Exchange Place, Baltimore.

UNIVERSAL

Life Insurance Company,

—NEW YORK—

The Original Joint-Stock Life Insurance Company of the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the Insurance of first-class healthy lives.

The Distinctive Feature

Of the Stock system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the Mutual, is a low rate of premiums for a definite sum insured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium with a promised dividend, which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

Illustration.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure in the UNIVERSAL, the sum of $11,751, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,474—a difference immediately secured, in favor of the UNIVERSAL, $3,277.
To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent. greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty-three and one-third per cent. payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty per cent. payable at the end of five years.
By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan the full value in insurance of the premium paid, is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

The Premiums

Charged by the Universal are as low as the actual experience of insured life in this country will justify, and on ordinary Life and Ten-Year Non-forfeiture policies are nearly one-third lower than those charged by a majority of Mutual Companies.
Special attention is asked to our "Return Premium Plan," by which the amount of the policy is secured simply by the temporary deposit of the annual premiums, which are returned in full, together with the amount assured, to the holder of the policy when it shall become a claim upon the Company. Also to the

"REDUCTION PREMIUM PLAN,"

By which a reduction of one-third is made in the premium after the first annual payment, being, in fact, equivalent to a dividend of 33 1-3 per cent. A clause is inserted in the policies issued by the "Universal," in which these results are distinctly specified and guaranteed.
Full General Agents' Commission paid to good, live solicitors. Local Agents wanted in every town and county. Address:
LACHLAN H. McINTOSH, General Agent.
